President's Corner

Hey Sandies,

I hope everyone had a great holiday and got everything they wanted for Christmas.

It's a new year and we have a lot planned.

As you know we are changing up our poker run dates to try something different. We still need to be thinking about our pumpkin run and what to do with it. It's also not too early to be thinking of door prizes for this year.

We have a lot of good rides plan for the year. If anybody has any riding suggestions, please let us know.

What's Happening

Breakfast before our Rides..... Joe & Eddie's Restaurant (Across from Goofy Golf) 8:00 am. A note, Joe's has a bunch of new Wait staff, when you walk in and sit down, put your order in right away. Don't wait for other Sandies to join you. We leave at 9 am period.

Tuesdays... We will be getting together on our non- business meeting Tuesday's at a location To Be Announced by our famous "Cat Herder", so watch your emails, time as always: 6:00 PM.

Our Business Meeting Time Has Changed !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Our Meeting will at The Okaloosa Fire Dept. Training Room, 2nd Floor 9:00 am, 1st Sunday of the Month, Ride to follow.

Frozen Butt Ride & Chili Cook-off..... In January, the 28th to be Exact..... Another Sandie Event, hopefully it will be cold for the Ride. This one is were we ride no matter what the temperature, we have ridden (not far) when it was 17 degrees F. No one said we were the sharpest spoons in the drawer and we are Damn proud of it . Hopefully we can get some Sandie's to make Chili. The Best Chili Contest it is awesome by the way. We end up at Edna's house and warm up, then head home. You can always justify it by saying your testing your Cold weather gear. Real Sandies don't need no stinking excuse, we aren't that bright. We take our Chili over to Edna's the day before.

WE BE DO'N DINNER RIDES

The Sandies eons ago used to do one dinner ride a month, more than that and it got real thin on participation. The Dinner Ride will be a Mystery Dinner Ride. That means the Roadie leading it knows were it will end up. Now if you have certain dietary needs and/or a picky eater, just contact the Road Lead and find out just where.

A couple of remembers, we use the Sandie table method, parties of 4 or 5 or 6, don't let the restaurant folks, unless they have the space, set-up one mass table. It works better for the wait staff and kitchen. Speaking of wait staff, Sandies if you get good service and the kitchen screws up don't take it out on the wait folks. Traditionally wait people really are not in love with Motorcycle Clubs cause they are crappy tippers. We on the other hand have quite a few places where we are really appreciated, let's keep the good feelings rolling.

Slow Cooker Creamy Mustard Sauce Pot Roast

Total Cooking Time: 8 hours, 10 minutes

Ingredients:

3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons melted butter
3 tablespoons Dijon mustard, divided
2 cups low-sodium beef broth heated
1 small onion, thinly sliced
4 cloves garlic, minced
2-pound beef pot roast
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons pepper
4 sprigs fresh thyme
3 tablespoons sour cream
2 tablespoons roughly chopped parsley

Directions:

In a 6-quart slow cooker, whisk flour and melted butter to make a paste. Add 2 tablespoons Dijon mustard and hot beef broth. Whisk until smooth. Stir in onions and garlic.

Rub pot roast with salt, pepper and remaining tablespoon Dijon mustard.

Place pot roast in the slow cooker. Lay thyme on top.

Cover and cook on low for 7 hours.

Remove pot roast from slow cooker. Whisk sour cream into sauce. Return pot roast to slow cooker, cover and cook for an additional 1 hour on low.

Serve with creamy mustard gravy from slow cooker and garnish with parsley.

Pro tip: Searing your pot roast before slow cooking adds more depth of flavor and a beautiful color to your roast. Season the roast with mustard, salt and pepper as usual. Heat 4 tablespoons vegetable or canola oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat. When the oil is hot, sear the roast on all sides until it turns golden brown, about 2 minutes per side. Once seared, transfer to slow cooker.

DECEMBER SKILLS

SpectreSteve

DECEMBER, it's the month we look forward to for Christmas, New Year's Eve and, of course, SKILLS! Yes we look forward to skills every month. But this is about DECEMBER skills, not your every month skills, although they may look similar.

10 Sandies showed up for what could have been a very cold skills session. It started out pretty chilly but soon warmed up. Outer layers of warm clothes were shed and we rolled around the skills area like it was summertime! JoeJoe and George set up the course a bit different right off the bat.

The inline swerve was set up with taller cones. Of course the swerve distance was the same, but those cones! Oh my! I personally smashed, drug and simply tipped over many of them. And JoeJoe has the video to prove it! In my defense---uh, I have no defense. I just hit them.

The rest of the course, offset swerve, higher speed turns and bigger swerves seemed easy after the in line swerve. The box was also active as we moved from exercise to exercise.

One new Sandie was there! Chuck H showed up on his 92 GW. Very pretty bike. I think he said he paid $300 for it. He did a respectable job at skills. He had been a rider some time ago and was now getting back into the groove. As some of you have in the past, myself included, taken a break of any length know it can degrade your riding skills. In fact a lot of older riders (no names please) who were riders in their (relative) youth, have decided to go back to riding, and die every year. Mostly due to the skill of riding a motorcycle being degraded without practice. Just like any sports player who was once an excellent player, takes a break and returns to the sport, needs to practice to get back to the prior level of play, motorcyclists need to practice also. What better way to practice than to - practice? Skills does just that. Even if you have been to skills in the past, you need to come back and tune up those skills you don't use every day. Skills like braking and swerving at near real-world speeds, and more! Remember the old saying "don't make your first attempt to avoid a school bus or pickup truck on the highway your last attempt". Give yourself a fighting chance, practice in a controlled situation. In other words, come to Sand Dollar M/C Motorcycle Skills day each month. It's not just life-saving stuff, it's fun!!

OK back to the December skills. Those of us who attend regularly had no real problems, except with that inline swerve and those danged taller cones. Chuck H did well and you could tell he will be on the top of his game soon. But when he stopped, his bike started spewing anti-freeze. Seems it had a fan problem. No worries virtually every Sandie gathered round with each Sandie having a different solution. Just like always. I hope Chuck gets it solved easily.

After skills it was a ride to the Laurel Hill Grill in Laurel Hill (of course). Food was good as always and we filled up our bellies before the ride home.

George took a back way home and JoeJoe kept him updated on rain in the area - which meant, of course, that we were soon riding right into the showers. Stopping to put on rain gear, we continued. Chuck H, remember him? Chuck had a new camera on his helmet and took some pretty nice video of the ride, complete with sound from his CB. Rain and all we had a good time. BTW Chuck paid more for his camera than he paid for the bike! Yes it's true.

As we got back to the Crestview area I split off and headed home. I'm assuming that all the Sandies arrived home safely as I saw no obituaries in the news.

On another note, December 31st saw the sad loss of a Sandie due to cancer. TwoJohn' passed away at his home in Georgia. Those that knew him will miss him. He leaves a wife, Ginny, and a daughter, Lilly.

Enough for this edition, Now that we are done with 2017 let's look forward to the New Year with a safe riding year for all!

The Loss Of Another Member John "TwoJohn" Bouchard

"TwoJohn" got his Sandie name when we had John Wender and John Bouchard in the club at the same time. Since John Wender had never received a road name, the second guy became 'TwoJohn'. Later, while still on active duty with the USAF, he was diagnosed with cancer. I've been watching his facebook posts for some time now and his last one I remember was his acknowledgement of his fate. He also forbid anyone telling him how sorry we are and posting anything about it - His wish was carried out.

I never flew missions with him as he was not assigned any particular airframe. But I had flown with others like him. And like TwoJohn they were all fluently multilingual, his mission was to fly as a DISO: Defense Information Systems Operator. Clearances for that job are extremely hard to qualify for. During deployments to Afghanistan, the DI-SO's kept us out of harm's way more than once. How they do that I am not at liberty to say, but they do it very well.

Two John will be missed by all the Sandies who knew him and admired him. His professionalism on and off the job was quite notable. Rest In Peace my friend. God bless and keep the family of John Bouchard.

20 Things you probably didn't know about Christmas

1. It wasn't always on December 25.

Though Christmas celebrates the birth of Jesus Christ, there is no mention of December 25 in the Bible. (Most historians believe he was actually born in the spring.) It wasn't chosen as the official holiday until the 3rd Century. Some argue that the date was picked because it coincided with the pagan festival of Saturnalia, celebrating agricultural god Saturn with partying and gift-giving.

2. Thank Prince Albert for your tree.

Another Christmas tradition stemming from Saturnalia was the Christmas tree: During the winter solstice, branches served as a reminder of spring — and became the root of our Christmas tree. The Germans are credited with first bringing evergreens into their homes and decorating them, a tradition which made its way to the United States in the 1830s. But it wasn't until Germany's Prince Albert introduced the tree to his new wife, England's Queen Victoria, that the tradition took off. The couple was sketched in front of a Christmas tree in 1848 — and royal fever did its work.

3. Coca-Cola came up with the red suit.

Well, Santa wore a variety of colorful suits through the years — including red, blue, white, and green — but legend has it that the popular image of his red coat came from a 1930s ad by Coca Cola.

4. St. Nick was more generous than jolly.

Sure, you probably knew that Santa Claus came from St. Nicholas, a Christian bishop living in the fourth century AD. St. Nicholas gave away his abundant inheritance to help the needy. He also was known for good deeds like rescuing sisters from prostitution. As his legend spread, he was eventually known by names like as Sinter Klaas in Dutch — which morphed into Santa Claus. He's not just the protector of children, either: St. Nicholas is also the patron saint of unmarried women, prisoners, thieves and pawn-brokers. How's that for a naughty list?

5. Stockings have a funny root.

Gift-giving also came from Holland. There, St. Nicholas' feast day is celebrated December 6 by children leaving out shoes overnight and finding little gifts from St. Nicolas in the morning. According to legend, hanging stockings came from the tale of a poor man who couldn't afford his three daughters dowries: St. Nick dropped a bag of gold down their chimney one night so that the eldest could wed — but it fell into a stocking that was drying by the fire and was not found immediately!

6. Rudolph was almost named Reginald.

A copywriter named Robert L. May first invented the oddball reindeer in 1939 as a marketing gimmick for Montgomery Ward's holiday coloring books. (May considered naming the beloved misfit Reginald and Rollo.) And his nose wasn't originally going to be red: A red nose was viewed as a sign of chronic alcoholism, and Montgomery Ward didn't want him to seem like a drunkard. Good thing they changed it. "Reginald, the blue-nosed reindeer" doesn't have quite the same ring ... or charm.

7. Jingle Bells was originally a Thanksgiving song.

James Lord Pierpont, an organist from Savannah, Georgia, first performed a song he wrote, "The One Horse Open Sleigh," at his church's Thanksgiving concert. The song was re-published in 1857 and given the title of today. Bonus fact: It's also the first song broadcast from space. On December 16, 1965, the Gemini 6 crew serenaded Mission Control after they reported seeing a "red-suited" astronaut.

8. Christmas sends at least 15,000 people to the ER.

From hanging lights on ladders to taking roast out of the oven, making merry can prove hazardous. In fact, the Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that an average of 15,000 Americans visit hospital emergency rooms each November and December from holiday-related decorating accidents. To top it off, dried Christmas trees spark hundreds of fires, an average of 17 deaths, and $13 million in property damage annually.

9. Christmas Merrymaking used to be illegal.

Though the first American batch of eggnog was created by the Jamestown settlers, by the time the Puritans settled Boston, Christmas was illegal. (The word nog comes from the word grog; that is, any drink made with rum.) From 1659 to 1681, celebrating the once-pagan day could cost you a fine of as much as five shillings. And after the Revolutionary War, the new Congress found the day so unimportant that they held the first session of the Continental Congress on Christmas Day, 1789. It wasn't proclaimed a federal holiday for nearly another century.

10. Washington Irving created Santa's sweet ride.

He's best known for The Legend of Sleepy Hollow's headless horseman, but the author also came up with the idea of Santa's flying sleigh. In The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, an 1819 series of short stories, Irving recounted a dream where St. Nicholas flew across the sky in a wagon. According to legend, his stories were so popular that they sparked a Christmas fervor in the United States and even England, so much so that Charles Dickens reportedly was inspired by Irving when making his own holiday classic, A Christmas Carol.

11. The Grinch stole the box office.

It's hard to decide which holiday classic to watch first — or which one will be most popular with the whole family. But when it comes to the box office, the highest-grossing Christmas movie of all time is How the Grinch Stole Christmas starring Jim Carrey.

12. Santa has his own zip code.

Every year, letters to Santa Claus flood post offices across the world. Some Canadian Post Office workers even started answering them — but as more letters arrived, they set up a special zip code for Santa as part of a "Santa Letter-Writing Program" literacy initiative. The zip code? H0H 0H0.

13. Favorite carols have complicated histories.

The original lyrics to "Hark! The Herald Angel Sings" were "Hark! How the Welkin rings!" Pretty catchy, right? (Welkin was an old English term for heaven.) And though "Silent Night" was rumored to be a Christmas miracle by Father Joseph Mohr of Oberndorf, Austria, whose organ was broken, the truth was less dramatic: A Catholic priest wrote the poem "Stille Nacht! Heilige Nacht!" in Mariapfarr, Austria. Two years later, he transferred to Mohr's St. Nicholas Church and asked Franz Gruber to put it to music, which they performed on Christmas Eve 1818.

And the holiday classic "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" has a less jovial history. Songwriter James "Haven" Gillespie was asked to write a Christmas song. At the time, he was broke, jobless, and mourning his brother's recent death. Despite being overcome with grief, he found inspiration in the holiday memories he and his brother had shared.

14. 'Xmas' doesn't remove Christ from Christmas.

It's quite the opposite, in fact. According to From Adam's Apple to Xmas: An Essential Vocabulary Guide for the Politically Correct, the word "Christianity" was spelled "Xianity" as far back as 1100. X, or Chi, in Greek is the first letter of "Christ" and served as a symbolic stand-in. In 1551, the holiday was "Xtem-mas" but eventually shortened to "Xmas."

15. Americans ship an unbelievable amount of gifts.

Last year, on December 22, the U.S. Postal Service delivered a staggering 28.2 million packages — breaking its own record for most parcels ever delivered in a single day in its 237-year history. That's just ONE day of the entire holiday season, too!

16. Ham, not turkey, is the festive favorite.

The dinner debate rages on. Searches for "ham" and "turkey" both spike during the month of December, according to Google Trends data. (Though it's nowhere near how frequently "turkey" is hunted for online in November!) But despite the popularity of both festive entrees, spiral-cut ham remains the more popular choice for a Christmas table. In 2013, Americans bought 318 million pounds of ham during November and December, or 50% of their annual total consumption.

17. Feliz Navidad Around the World

Christmas traditions vary from culture to culture. Finns often visit saunas on Christmas Eve, while Portuguese revelers hold a feast on Christmas Day for the living and the dead (extra places are set for the souls of the deceased). In Greece, some believe that goblins called kallikantzeri run wild during the 12 days of Christmas, and most Greeks don't exchange presents until Jan. 1, St. Basil's Day. Thanks to their geographic location, most Australians and New Zealanders enjoy Christmas on the beach or at barbecues. Spain, meanwhile, hosts the world's largest lottery.

18. With a bullet...

"Silent Night" is the most recorded Christmas song in history, with over 733 different versions copyrighted since 1978.

19. Who was that bearded man?

Boston church leaders tried to have the song "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus" banned in the 1950s because they thought it "promoted physical intimacy." Singer Jimmy Boyd had to fly to Boston and explain to them why it wasn't obscene.

20. Yeah, but can he twitch his nose?

If the Griswold's house in National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation looks familiar, that's because it's the same house where Bewitched was filmed.
