Hey Sandies,

It's been a great month. We've had some good weather for some rides. Da Prince, Tim White has put together some really good rides - they were awesome, Thank you Tim!

I also want to thank everyone who came out for the poker run it really went off without a hitch, and to everyone that donated to our charity, a very big thank you! And a huge thank you to the Harley shop for helping us put it on! They want us back next year and they said it was the best poker run that they had ever seen. I also want to thank Hooters and Terry Hymel for the wings - they were so good. Big success all around.

'Til next time, ride safe.

What's Happening

Breakfast before our Rides..... Joe & Eddie's Restaurant (Across from Goofy Golf) 8:00 am. A note, Joe's has a bunch of new Wait staff, when you walk in and sit down, put your order in right away. Don't wait for other Sandies to join you. We leave at 9 am period.

Tuesdays... We will be getting together on our non-business meeting Tuesday's at a location To Be Announced by our famous "Cat Herder", so watch your emails, time as always: 6:00 PM.

Our Business Meeting Time Has Changed !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Our Meeting will at The Okaloosa Fire Dept. Training Room, 2nd Floor 9:00 am, 1st Sunday of the Month, Ride to follow.

The Weekly Dining-In is now changing regularly. Watch the email for updates from George. The weirdness is always on Tuesdays, always starts around 6, and there's always a good crowd.

Shirt Ride Time: Another sign that summer is here is the colorful sight of a group of not sane motorcyclists all dressed up in very colorful shirts heading down the road. This sight has raised many questions from the non-riding population. Are we being invaded by a motorcycle gang that looks like a Jimmy Buffet Concert? Could this be a group of escaped Parrot Heads? Or just a mentally not well of Bikers? Most learned opinions lean toward the last explanation. The actual truth is that it's The Sandies out for another Fun Ride and Pikanik. Since The Aloha or Hawaiian Shirts have become our formal attire, why not flaunt it. What better to flaunt it then ride somewhere wearing said Shirts? The louder, the more colorful the better is our rule of thumb. I say if your family would be embarrassed to see you in it then its perfect Sandie wear. So find yourself one or two or like Munchkin have a whole suit made from Aloha material. Then step bravely out the front door, get on that motorcycle and ride with Sandie pride. There you have a Sunday Shirt Ride.

WE BE DO'N DINNER RIDES

The Sandies eons ago used to do one dinner ride a month, more than that and it got real thin on participation. The Dinner Ride will be a Mystery Dinner Ride. That means the Roadie leading it knows where it will end up. Now if you have certain dietary needs and/or a picky eater, just contact the Road Lead and find out just where.

A couple of remembers, we use the Sandie table method, parties of 4 or 5 or 6, don't let the restaurant folks, unless they have the space, set-up one mass table. It works better for the wait staff and kitchen. Speaking of wait staff, Sandies if you get good service and the kitchen screws up don't take it out on the wait folks.

Lighthouse Inn Potatoes

Once you taste these seductive spuds, you'll have a new favorite for family gatherings, holiday potlucks and yes, even weeknight meals.

Ingredients:

2 ounces Parmesan cheese, grated (about 1 cup)
1 cup panko bread crumbs
4 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted, plus 6 tablespoons cut into 6 pieces
Salt and pepper
2½ pounds russet potatoes, peeled and cut into 1-inch chunks
3 cups light cream, divided (may substitute heavy cream but not half-and-half, which tends to break)
1/8 teaspoon baking soda (for stability and silkiness)

Instructions:

Adjust an oven rack to the middle position and preheat the oven to 375 degrees. In a small bowl, combine Parmesan, panko, 4 tablespoons melted butter and ¼ teaspoon salt. Set aside. In a large saucepan, combine the potato chunks, 2½ cups light cream, 1/8 teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons salt and 1 teaspoon pepper.

(You'll think that this is too much salt. You'll be tempted to use less. Don't do it. Follow the recipe. The sauce will be salty, but in the end the potatoes will be perfection.)

Bring this mixture to a boil over medium-high heat. The potatoes will want to stick, so stir them frequently. Reduce the heat to low and cook at a bare simmer, still stirring often, until a paring knife slides easily into several potato chunks without the potatoes crumbling apart, 20 to 25 minutes.

You don't want the potatoes mushy. As soon as the biggest chunks yield easily to the knife, get them off the heat and stir in the remaining ½ cup of cream and the remaining 6 tablespoons of unsalted butter. Keep stirring until the butter has melted, about 1 minute.

Pour the creamy potato mixture into a 9-by-13-inch baking dish. (You'll want to butter the dish, but you don't have to.)

If you're making the potatoes ahead, proceed below. If you are cooking them immediately, sprinkle the Parmesan-panko mixture evenly over the top. Bake, uncovered, until the potatoes are bubbling and the crumb topping is nicely browned, around 15-20 minutes. Let the potatoes cool for at least 15 minutes before serving.

To make ahead and bake later: After the potato mixture has been transferred to the baking dish, let it cool completely, then cover the dish with aluminum foil and refrigerate for up to 24 hours. When you're ready, before applying the Parmesan-panko topping, bake the potatoes at 375 degrees, covered, until they're heated through, about 35 minutes. Remove the dish from the oven and apply the topping evenly. Bake again, now uncovered, for another 15-20 minutes until the top is nicely browned.

Serves 8-10

Original recipe from Ashley Moore and Cook's Country magazine, December/January 2017.

A Heartfelt Thank You from Jim Walters to all the Sandies

George, once again the Sand Dollars have come to my families aid with support and sympathy. You will never know how much it meant to me to have all of you there in my time of need. I was also very happy that all of you chose to visit my home afterward. I wanted everyone to feel as part of my family as I do the Sand Dollars. I had intended to have more conversation with everyone. There was just too much going on. I sincerely hope no one felt slighted. I was doing my best to visit with as many as I could. Once again, thank you very much for taking the time on a Saturday to come to Pat's service and if I am living, I will be there for the Bunny Run.

Jim

Sandies you were all amazing. 20 of you stepped up to show just how much Jim means to all of us.

It was great to see some folks we don't normally have a chance to visit with. Larry P, who we don't get to see much, was there to show his respects. Pat G's gracious wife, Kathy is another I don't get the pleasure of meeting often. Pat actually did a great job Cat Herding to Jim's house after the service. The great Howard W and his dedicated fellow traveler Francine, it's always a pleasure to see you both . Howard and Francine have become members of the Tim White 'Club of Slothfulness'. (i.e. they have both joined the ranks of the Happily Retired.)

Munchkin was there, sans Helen, which can be like defusing an explosive device blind-folded, because an unsupervised Munchkin is a dangerous Munchkin. Speaking of scary surprises, when Frank W makes a comment it's usually pretty right on and, there's no telling what's coming .One Sandie who will always be there doing the right thing is Jim M or Da Duke. Jim has not missed a time to show his respect for a fellow Sandie since Jim became a Sandie.

A new Sand Dollar member, but a very active one is Tammy T, it is always a nice to have Tammy join us. One that surprises me is none other than our Sharon W. Some of the things that lady says even make me blush and no I ain't repeating it - so there. Harold & Dona L and Ashlee also took the time to show Jim their support and care in his loss.

After the Service, which I felt really reflected the warmth and caring the Walters family always showed to each other. Jim invited everyone over to the house for food and fellowship. I noticed the Sandies beat everyone to the house. The Sandies got to Jim's house before Jim did. Mention food and Sandies become as focused as a laser and even more dangerous.

After a nice lunch and visiting it was time to put out the arrow signs for the Bunny Run. We put out directional arrow signs at turns and checkpoints along the route, in addition to giving everyone a map. The arrows are supposed to help the 'map challenged' stay on the route. Still, even with all the help, sometimes a few will somehow manage to get misplaced in time and space (aka lost). Scary, huh?

Ms. Pat and My Buddy Jim A Love Story

Sometimes God has a plan - he throws people together and the ripples that result, like throwing a pebble in a lake, can have profound effects. The ripples spread, merge, and people are changed forever. We never know the outcome until long after. Sometimes God has a plan.

A young boy met a young girl in Hickman, Kentucky. Time drifted, time passed. They met again. The young man liked what he saw, so did she. Back then Ms. Pat was a tiny thing, in Daisy Dukes, small petite, bright eyed, with bird-like quick movements and a twinkle in her eye. He was a big guy, steady, hardworking, a responsible man. Ms. Pat told me that once; looking over her glasses as she was wont to do, with a big grin, that for a Walters....he was pretty steady!

As young people do, they fell in love, got married started making a life together on this earth that lasted fifty-one years. They traveled the world, rode motorcycles in Okinawa, climbed Desert Mountains, and they visited the City of Love, Paris, France. They were a team that served our Nation for twenty-one years. They loved, fought, made up, made do, and lived. They lived life. They made kids, raised kids, worshipped grandkids. They made mistakes, learned from them, moved on and grew from the experience called life.

It was sometimes not an easy life. There were bumps in the road as in any lifetime together. But as time marched on their love grew, so too did their belief in one "'''''' another. They are a team; they will always be a team. We all saw it....

They shared dreams, secrets, confidences, a life well lived. Ms. Pat loved and trusted Jim; Jim loved and trusted Ms. Pat.

MS Pat let Jim do about anything he wanted; Jim did about anything Ms. Pat wanted. If Jim wanted to do something Ms. Pat might grumble a little, but she was always in. So was Jim! If Ms. Pat wanted something, Jim would go get it.

That's the way it was with those two.

Those ripples spread, got wider. Ms. Pat and my buddy Jim met people, affected people, influenced people with the example of how they worked together, how they loved one another, how they lived life. People liked to be around them, know them. Sometimes God has a plan.

Ms. Pat had to leave my buddy Jim, and all of us that knew her. That was a hard thing. It was a hard day. What can you say to that? Nothing, nothing at all that would make it better. Ms. Pat went on ahead down the trail; I like to think to fix up a place so when Jim shows up things will be ready... All we can do is hold on. Trust things will get easier. I don't know much, but I think I know one thing for sure about the love story of Ms. Pat and my buddy Jim.....

God has a plan

The Sandies Made the Bunny Run a Total Sweep

George Engler

First off, 22 of you came out and helped, that was simply astonishing. Then there was the impression The Sandies made on the folks at Emerald Coast Harley-Davidson. They couldn't get over how organized we were - it blew them away. Our Route, which drew a lot of praise from the participants, also got the attention of the folks at ECHD. The remark made to me over and over was just how the Sandies had their stuff together. The management of ECHD has asked us to come back next year on Sunday, they were that impressed.

I don't know what the final take for the day was. But I do know some of you Sandies donated over 300 dollars of your own money to the Charity. We also had quite a few of our participants donate extra money.

All that praise and acknowledgement of The Sandies didn't just materialize out of thin air. This isn't a Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland movie. Where it's "Hey kids, let's put on a show and save ol' Farmer Brown's Dairy" and then an hour and a half later there is a full scale Broadway production at the High School Auditorium.

Nope, with The Sandies it is 37 years of honing our skills in putting on poker runs . It's the hard work all of you put in, it's the hours spent riding and driving and 'knocking on doors' to collect door-prizes. All of these things make that difference which causes people to notice The Sandies

There was Sharon W and the Door-Prize Crewe, Munchkin and 50/50. Edna, Jim M, John G and Howard Wilson at the Registration table, Sandy S and Tommy ('Needs to be Baker Acted') N taking care of registration money. Tammy T helping it seemed like everywhere. Then there was JoeJoe and Bunky (Louis E) with the Registration Clip boards running around like Hare Krishna acolytes at an Airport. Instead of flowers, it was Registration forms. I know I saw people that came to look at Harleys, corralled by these two. Just to escape the two I know of people who filled out the registration forms just to escape.

We had our hard working Road Crewe manning the Checkpoints. Steven G , Pat G and Jim W on The Deuce. Now Three had the Scary Duo, Michael (Sensei) M and The Prince himself, Tim W. At Stop Four, located deep in the wild environs of The FWB Fairgrounds, Dona and Harold (I'm all Right) L I can't begin to thank all of you folks on the road without you volunteering to help it couldn't have been done. You folks always make it look easy, Thank you so much.

I want to thank Robert W and Sam E you folks are some of the glue that holds this sinking Ship of Fools together, thank you both.

Speaking of John G, my friend I will certainly miss you. John is selling both of his motorcycles and taking a hiatus from riding. John was always that calm voice of reason that tempered things when they got a little wild. John, you and Ellen are always welcome with the Sandies with or without Rides. Ride Safe and may the wind forever be at your back, to both my friends.

Speaking of special Sandies, Doc Pat and the ever so lovely Brenda Lee, drove over from Louisiana with family to spend money and help the Sandie cause. It is always so special to see Brenda and oh, what's his name, Pat. I can't thank you enough for coming, it is always such a super treat.

Sandie's, you, all of you, did a magnificent job Saturday, but you always do. You make me so proud to a member of such an incredible group, bat shit crazy as all hell, but magnificent none the less.

As soon as I get the official numbers I will pass it on to all of you great Sandies.

Special Event Thursday, Sandies to Thunder Beach, Leave AL's at 9 am, under Robert's steady hands.

Sunday's Open ride to Maw Maw's Café

JoeJoe Rello

We had a wonderful day to ride. Mr. Tim W. put together a great ride up to Westerville to visit Maw Maw's. We have eaten there before but it now has a new name and is under new management.

The place belongs to some kind of religious ministry so they don't charge tax on the meal and it was an all you can eat buffet for only $10 even.

The food was good. They had 2 kinds of chicken (fried and baked) along with beef burger steaks and ham for the main entries.

I had the baked chicken and ham ...Yummmmmmmmm!

They also have a full salad/desert bar included with the meal.

Tim rediscovered Corbin Gainey road (just off Bob Sikes). Seem the most fun part (i.e. the twisty part) was repaved recently.

Tim, Howard, Bunky and myself participated on this fantastic 200 mile ride.

Joejoe

The Wild "Bunch"

JoeJoe Rello

Here are some pictures from the Easter Sunday Open ride today. Turn-outs have been bigger. The crowd of folks who showed up at AL's to ride today consisted of Me and Myself, and also I. "We" had a quick discussion on where to ride to and decided to check out the newly paved part of Bob Sikes Road to the left (west) of 285. The road only goes to the west about 3/4 of a mile and turns to dirt if you go straight west or takes a right and ends at a locked gate. While on that road I got to chase a few deer back into the woods.

I decided that since it was Easter and I don't have any jelly beans "we" might as well stop at the Wal-Mart in Defuniak to get some. Once the shopping was complete the crew decided to do some more shopping by checking out the Chautauqua Vineyards store just down 331. There was plenty of parking at the vineyards today. Even though they are open 7 days a week nobody wants to work on Easter (go figure!). Guess I'll have to purchase wine some other day. Can you say "Road Trip"?

After that disappointment the 'crew' headed south to C6, HWY 20 and back to HWY 98 to my house where we ended up eating all those jelly beans by myself yummmmmmm!

Ended doing 120 fun miles today with my group of one.

JoeJoe.

The Hunt for the Old Okaloosa Drag Strip and a Good Blue-Plate Special George Engler

Today's search for ancient Okaloosa County history started out to be a simple trip eat lunch. What? it's a Sandie thing ,lunch, Eat to Ride, Ride to Eat and all that. Think of today like Indiana Jones and The Temple of Doom with pot roast.

We couldn't do Skills, the storm hung around just a bit too long. So being Sandies we did the next best thing, eat Lunch (see, it's kind of a pattern). Paco thought we should ride then eat, but silly boy it's Sandies ya know. Steven G had the idea lunch then ride a bit and that was the idea that stuck. So we did, go to lunch that is. 7 Sandies then did 135 sunny beautiful miles. First lunch you know Sandies never decide on the first suggestion on where to eat. After many places came and went, Gator Café in Baker it was. Now here is where it begins to weird out, Tommy and Sandy were in a four wheel contrivance, also known as a car. I figured they stopped to say hello and head out to wherever Tommy and Sandy go. Nope, no siree, not a chance, look back and there is Tommy's SUV behind JoeJoe . Okay it's off to Baker and Gator Café. Bunky (Louis E) must have liked his last Sandie experience cause Bunky actually returned. I guess the meds hadn't worn off, yet. Sir Robert joined us, too, as did JoeJoe.

The hunt thing came up during lunch. I had been looking for the remains of the old Drag Strip for a long time. When we were teenagers that's where you went to do Gearhead things. First it was waaay out in the country and it took a while to drive to. Highway 98 was two-lane, as was 85. I have had many a fond memory watching locals like Terry Bishop grudge match against big city boys. After the smoke cleared, send `em home with tucked tales. If you were a young man into cars and such Okaloosa Dragway was where it was happening, especially on Friday and Saturday nights, and sometimes even on Sunday afternoon. It was such a cool place to hang out and be around cars. I don't know why it closed or what happened to it. But every time I would ride around Baker I always wondered where it was. Landmarks have changed so much over the years and I hadn't been back more than 40 years. I was looking at a Facebook page called lost Drag strips and there was a story about Okaloosa Dragway. The story came from a web site about lost or closed Drag Strips. The article was from 2003 with a Google earth picture. I did a lot of checking before I saw it, an old strip of asphalt in the woods off of Galliver Cut-off. It was on the corner of Kyser Mill Rd. and Galliver cut-off. Talked to some folks who lived near there and they thought it was a wooded over air strip. Someone mentioned that there was an old control tower there at one time.

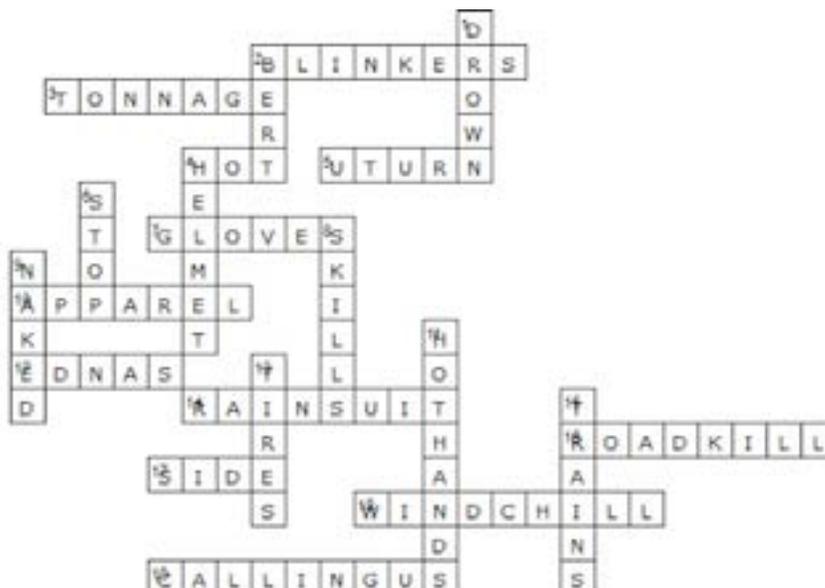

So today after riding the Bunny Run we went hunting. Sure as heck on the corner you could see on the north side of Kyser Mill rd., behind a newish house, a raised strip of asphalt. Since it was on private land I will have to wait to walk back there. Now you know how 7 Sandies went to lunch rode 135 miles and found a piece of Okaloosa County social history.

Today was what riding is all about, exploring, riding and enjoying the Ride with good friends.
